Library system must operate on a shoestring

Hopes to get the Northern Lights Library System fully operational this year have been effectively quashed with word from the Minister of Culture and Multiculturalism that there is no provincial core funding available to the system this year.

Minister Doug Main informed members of the Northern Lights Library System interim board last week the $600,000 start-up funding they had been hoping for was not available and he offered no guarantees as to when it would be.

Interim board chairman Dave McCullough told the Journal Tuesday the board is obviously disappointed by the news, but at a meeting Saturday in Vegreville decided to "piece together a shoestring budget" so the system can offer some skeleton services to its members including a newsletter, summer reading program and promotion of member libraries. The system will appeal to other library systems and libraries in the province for funds to assist in the Northern Lights operations. Additionally, a list of projects will be submitted to Main for review as he has indicated that the department might be willing to provide some funds amounting to about $30,000 for specific projects.

A request will be made to Main to establish a permanent board to oversee the system's operations.

The minister has offered to provide a person from his department to work full time on the board's behalf, McCullough said.

"Too many people have worked for too long, too hard," McCullough said for the interim board to call it quits altogether. But, he said, if funding isn't made available next year the system will die.

John Trefanenko, St. Paul's representative on the board, said he believes the minister's hands were tied on this.

"I feel he co-operated as much as he could. He's dedicated towards improving libraries.

"I'm disappointed. It's not the greatest news. I would have liked to see the system go at full speed. We'll just have to do the best we can with the resources we have until then."

Trefanenko said the board will not be requesting the members municipalities to kick in their share of funding the system this year because the system will not be wholly operational and until such time as government funding is received, it won't be.

Meanwhile, Vegreville MLA Derek Fox is outraged by the funding block. Vegreville was selected as the site for the system's headquarters.

"Culture minister Doug Main has delivered a stunning insult to the hard work of dozens of volunteers who have done 250 person years' worth of work to set up a regional library system for our area."

Fox attacked the minister March 28 during Question Period in the Legislature.

"For 11 years dedicated volunteers who understand the benefits of a regional library system have been working. There are now 15 communities eager to move the process ahead and begin serving people in the area. Mr. Main just doesn't seem to care," Fox charged.

Responding to the criticism, Main told the Legislature, "I think the government's commitment to libraries and library services is well known. It was again addressed by the Provincial Treasurer the other night in his announcement that there will be a three per cent increase for library grants to all libraries across the province.

"The unfortunate thing that happened in the northeast part of the province is that the planning process that has taken a number of years ended at a time when the government is deeply committed to a balanced budget. Unfortunately, the planning process and monies available did not mesh exactly as we had hoped."

Fox accused the government of being out of touch with what matters to Albertans.

"They might think they can get away with showing they don't care about the concerns of people needing library services in our region but I've had enough and I know I'll be delivering the message to Mr. Main that there are many more who feel just as betrayed and mistreated over this issue as I do."

Crosswalk safety

Before Council again

Concerns with pedestrian crosswalk safety between Elk Point Elementary School and F. G. Miller High School during the afternoon dismissal period were again before Town Council at Monday night's meeting. Discussion centered on a Utilities Committee recommendation to install manually operated drop arms at either end of the area for a cost of approximately $4200.

Council agreed that a bylaw to control traffic in the area was required and should be drafted prior to Council's next regular meeting. The Administration will also be asked to check into the Safe Streets Program, under which funding on a 75-25 basis may be available for the purchase of traffic control materials. Council would also like further information on the design and proposed location of the arms.

Spring has again resulted in drainage problems on the Tags lot at the junction of Highway 41 and Railway Avenue. Surveying measurements taken of the lot last fall and this spring indicate that elevations of the site have only changed a fraction of an inch, and that the catch basins have not moved at all. Overlays were done the first and second springs after the pavement was installed to alleviate the problem, but have failed to eliminate it entirely. Council agreed to seek a 50-50 cost split with the property owner to install another overlay, with a release from all future Town involvement with the problem to be signed before construction begins.

A property owner who received a $2364.56 water bill after a water line break went undetected for some days in an unoccupied dwelling will be given the opportunity to pay the amount over six months without interest being added to the account. Council agreed that to forgive the bill would be like adding $7 to each tax account in town to absorb the cost of treating that amount of water, and that the property owner would have to pay it because the incident was in no way the Town's fault.

With summer not far off, Council discussed the need for overnight camping facilities in town. Word has been received that the CNR property can be purchased, but Council is not certain that this is an appropriate spot for such a development. Deputy Mayor Frankiw will take the matter to the Tourism Action Committee for further discussion, while Councillor Adele Mandryk will ask the Community Services Board for their input.

Also appearing on Council's agenda was a suggestion that the Town write to the MLA to ask for Monday opening of the Alberta Liquor Control Board store over the summer months, in the interests of tourism. This was referred to the Development Committee for discussion.

The time is rapidly approaching when work could get underway on the Mural Park, but Council and the Historical Society (and / or Mural Park Committee) are still at odds on an agreement which must be signed before work can commence. Council went over the latest version of the agreement at Monday's meeting, and found many areas of concern. An area of concern that was not contained in the agreement itself is that continued "nitpicking" over an agreement which pleases both parties is keeping the park development from getting started. Councillor Mandryk was delegated to meet with Historical Society President Larry Demchuk, another representative of that group, and Administrator Pat Vincent to come up with a suitable agreement before Council's next meeting. Representatives of the Historical Society will be asked to be present at that meeting to answer questions and participate in discussion of the new agreement.

Council News

Possible programs and benefits for Elk Point through the St. Paul / Smoky Lake Community Futures were discussed, with suggestions brought forward ranging from the purchase of hospitality training programs to an opportunity for a person to start a recycling business in conjunction with the landfill site.

Elk Point will soon have a new Bylaw Enforcement Officer, for the first time in several years. A bylaw to provide for a position of this type was given all three readings, with Council subsequently adopting a contract for the provision of this service by Patrick Friesen, starting on Monday, April 9. Friesen will work a total of 10 hours per week, at varying times, and will keep a close eye on bylaw infractions both in town and at the landfill site.

An application by Heritage Lodge Auxiliary for a $400 grant under the Seniors' Transportation Grant program was approved by a one vote margin.

Plans for Elk Point's involvement in Earth Day, April 22, were discussed. The Community Services Board is sponsoring a poster contest on ecological awareness, with Norcen Resources providing the prizes and the winners to be announced April 25. Other events, such as a roundup of expired prescription drugs, may be added to the program.

The resignation of Receptionist - Typist Sonia Yarmuch was accepted with regret. Mrs. Yarmuch was currently on leave, and decided not to return after that time.

Friendly Foes For Final Game

Wives and girlfriends of the Elks donned the road game sweaters and took up their sticks on Sunday evening to give the Elks the most interesting and most entertaining competition of the season. Not only are they the best looking opposition the Elks have had, they can play hockey surprisingly well also.

Five Years Of Town Service

Water and Sewer Operator Steve Penz celebrated his fifth anniversary as a Town of Elk Point employee with the presentation of this handsome engraved clock by Deputy Mayor Allan Frankiw at the April 2 meeting of Town Council.

Canada Day Fundraising Underway

Fundraising for Elk Point's 1990 Canada Day celebration is off to a good start. Norcen Energy Resources and Superior Propane contributed this $500 cheque, presented by Allan Frankiw to Canada Day Chairman Lawrence Pidluzny, toward the event.

Elks wind up season

They may be the Provincial Senior "D" Champions, but the Elk Point Elks are not above mixing a little fun with their hockey. This was apparent on Sunday evening, when the squad played the final game of the 1989-90 hockey year—against their wives and girlfriends!

With the lineup changed to put team manager Del Smith in goal and the two goalies out on offence, and their hockey sticks trimmed down so less than half an inch of blade remained, the Elks took on the less skilled but definitely game group of ladies for two periods of the most hilarious hockey seen this year.

Dressed in the Elks' road game sweaters and a variety of borrowed equipment, the girls took to the ice under the able coaching of Walter Ference and John Wozniak. Some were more at home on skates than others, and some were a bit unhandy with a hockey stick, but all improved as the game progressed.

The "Elkettes" were first on the scoreboard, with a free goal assessed them for delay of game by the Elks. Tracy Oryshchuk and Judy Scott added two goals apiece, while Sue Campbell, Sandra Ockerman, Patti Laboucane and LeeAnne Wozniak added singles, for a total of nine goals as compared to 8 for the Elks.

Penalties were few, as referee Keith Campbell must have decided diplomacy was the best policy, with his wife and her friends on one team and a whole lot of his own friends on the other. A few unusual features included tossing the puck behind, rather than between, the players at a face-off, and taking up a stick of his own to help out the girls when needed.

A good time was had by all, including the new timekeeper and scorekeeper who were pressed into service at the last minute, and who agreed that this was in fact one of the more entertaining games of the entire season. See you next fall, Elks!

In Our View

Northern Lights

Dimmed but not extinguished

Eleven months ago, at the Alberta Library Conference in Jasper, a bouquet of gas-filled balloons were cermonially released by Leslie Keith of the North East Library Project. With enough municipalities signed up, she declared, the Library System was off the ground.

In ensuing months, library boards across the region convinced their respective municipal councils to commit funding for this wonderful project which would maximize the benefits of libraries by increasing collections and speeding up the access of reference materials, while cutting back on purchasing costs with volume buying and decreasing the hours spent processing materials in individual libraries. In some cases, this was far from easy, as councils questioned the actual benefit to the libraries in their particular communities.

Then came the great headquarters debate. Each community was sure that they had the best amenities to offer, the most suitable temporary building, the best deal on land for a permanent location. The first short list emanating from the stack of proposals given to the consultant resulted in a considerable amount of teeth-gnashing by the communities which had not made the list, and eventually led to another round of evaluations. Finally, a headquarters site, which still did not sit well with many of the member towns, was chosen.

Well, there it was, the time for establishment was at hand. Time to go tell the Minister that everything was set to go. The required number of municipalities were signed up, the headquarters site determined, the permanent board in place. Mr. Main—all we needed was your blessing.

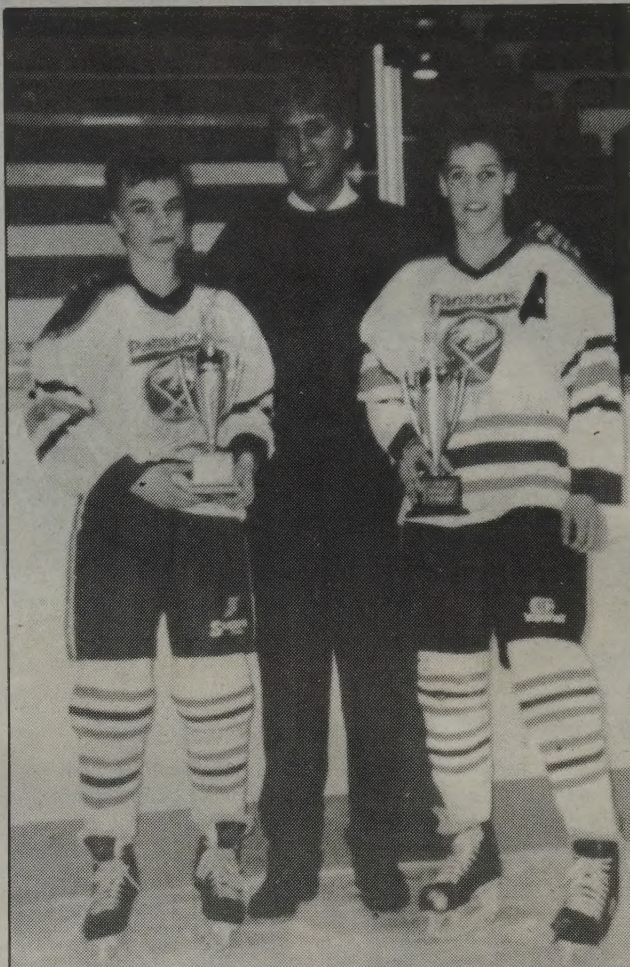

Only, it wasn't a blessing. It was more of a brickbat, square on the heads of all those who have worked for years toward the establishment of the Northern Lights Library System. Some of those people on the original steering committee, such as Elk Point's Irene Miller and St. Paul's Doreen Bean, have been planning budgets, making policies, setting goals and outlining objectives for over half a decade, waiting for the wonderful day when the system would become a reality. Leslie Keith has travelled to all corners of the region, met with first library boards and then municipal councils to sell the concept of the system, and answered a million questions along the way. How great a blow this was to these dedicated workers, we can only imagine.

It's a big enough blow to the rest of us: the municipalities who hoped to be able to offer better library service through the system, and who were willing to make sizeable financial commitments to make it happen, the library boards who gave their support and trimmed their budgets to the quick so they would be able to make their contributions toward the system, and the countless library users throughout the region who were eagerly looking forward to the increased service the system would bring to their local libraries.

It's almost enough to make a person stop reading altogether. But we must not do that. We must take what little funding is available, add to it what we can, and spread it as thinly as is humanly possible, to keep the Northern Lights Library System alive, although in a state of semi-hibernation, while we wait for the funding to be available.

And it will be available, sooner or later. Library users are voters, too, and will not look favorably on a government that will let all this work towards establishment of a library system go down the drain. It may take time, but the Northern Lights will rise again, and will shine in all their glory as a testimony to the dedication of those who wouldn't give up.

Ponderings on Politics

By Irene Magnusson

At times I wish I had the stamina, or whatever it takes, to stick my head in the sand, as some folks do, in regards to the political uproar around me. Day after day, from radio, television and newspapers, we are bombarded with the woes of the world, hashed and rehashed, of how cruel and unkind, uncaring and foolish all those who hold the reins of public office are in their actions.

There isn't too much we can do about affairs in foreign lands; even if we do speak out, who will hear? Think about it, how much attention would WE pay to a headline, no matter how large the scale, printed in a far-off land, in a foreign language, that we never see? Not much, I'm sure you'll agree. Nor will we change our actions due to negative comments on the airwaves, beamed from far-off cities. So all we can do is listen and learn as much as we can, and hope we'll be alert enough, if they decide to invade our turf sometime.

Not foreign, but domestic, the hula-baloo we are faced with daily pertains to the action, or inaction, of those elected or appointed bodies who run our home and native land. And since the main core ARE elected, we feel we have carte blanche to howl and complain about whatever they do, or don't do, demanding this and complaining of that, year in, year out. Many persons feel it is their bounden DUTY to complain, heckle and advise, endlessly.

As long as we can take it with a handful of salt, and our ears don't wear out, perhaps we'll survive the bombardments. Some folks have devised a way to avoid the strain of absorbing all this vitriol. They don't listen, watch or read the news.

This may be cutting off one's nose to spite one's face. After all, there

ARE a number of things in the news we really should be aware of, in the interest of our health, perhaps wealth, and family welfare. But how to sift out the actual news events from the growling and griping. That is the puzzler.

If we were to allow the dissatisfied to throw out all the politicians they dislike, (according to a survey I heard the other day) and bring in whom we like, we would have Pierre Trudeau back running our country again, even though the 'polled' majority of a few years ago were ready to flush him on down without batting an eyelash.

Why? Because he did some things we didn't agree with. Could any man, woman (or person) actually please all the citizens of Canada? Please, it hurts my side to laugh so hard.

Nor can Brian Mulroney and company please everyone. To hear some of the more vocal complainers, one would think they please no one. Not true. If they pleased no one, how come, after a four year trial, Canadians overwhelmingly returned them to office?

Some of us lose sight of the fact that our Prime Minister or the slate of M.P.s, are not elected to office to please each and every voter, but rather to run the affairs of the country, to pay the bills accruing to that job and, hopefully, to find the money to do it with.

Take this GST item. There has been, and will continue to be, hundreds of tons of paper and galaxies of air waves used to protest its installation, and all the fault in the ocean piled on the ruling party's head(s). Some chronic complainers would oust the P.M., oust his Ministers and all his M.P.s, oust the Party, and come up with a million reasons why.

It's my bet, that if the weepers and

Last hurrah of hockey season

The 1989-90 hockey season in Elk Point wound up in great style this weekend, as the Elk Point Elks hosted sixteen teams of no-hit players at the Last Hurrah Tournament.

The Diggers, a team made up mostly of former local boys home from the city and other out of town locations for the weekend, took the 'A' side championship and top prize money of $400, for a 9-5 win over the Elk Point Old Peckers, otherwise known as the Clareview Driving Rangers, who won $300 for their efforts.

Clandonald OVs took home $300 for an overtime win in the 'B' side over St. Paul's Donald Hotel Ducks, who received $200 in prize money.

These four teams competed with the Elk Point Broncos, B & R Bullets, St. Paul Hawks, Vermilion Units, Vermilion Rangers and teams from Frog Lake, Kehewin and Heinsburg in a great weekend of hockey action.

A second category was added to the tournament this year, and featured four teams in the 'Last Gasp' division. The Rowdies defeated Lindbergh in the 'A' side, while the Funsters won the 'B' side, for a variety of donated prizes.

Digging In For The Win

This valiant crew of local and former local hockey players worked hard for their win of the 'A' Side trophy at the 1990 Last Hurrah.

NEW FOR 1990!

MORE STABLE COVERAGE WITH ALL-RISK CROP INSURANCE

INTRODUCING "INDEXING"

Indexing, the new method Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance Corporation will use to calculate coverage for producers who buy All-Risk Crop Insurance, protects farmers against fluctuations in production yields from year to year. With Indexing, farmers purchase crop insurance based on their own production, and coverage is determined by the farmer's production relative to the area.

These additional features, when combined with Indexing, provide even greater coverage stability:

- area estimates remain constant for three years
- annual coverage indexes can be no less than 70% and no greater than 130% of the farmer's past production trend to guard against abnormal years
- farmers' continuous participation over the years gives them a record that will help stabilize their coverage
- and more!

Ask about other changes to All-Risk Crop Insurance for 1990 - including a new set of 22 risk areas province-wide - at your local district office of Alberta Hail & Crop Insurance today!

Hospital Auxiliary

Annual Meeting

By Irene Magnusson

Twelve members put in an appearance for the Hospital Auxiliary March meeting, which was followed by the Annual Meeting, on March 26, 8:00 p.m. Minutes were dealt with, the Financial Statement read, and the canteen report received.

Minutes were corrected, and accepted. Finances were down, from other years, it was noted, while the Canteen has done fairly well, with generous donations of handwork received. It was suggested more volunteers were required to work in the canteen.

A request has been received to bring the history of the Auxiliary's activities since 1987, and up to date, and forward this to the AHAA. The Regional Conference of auxiliaries will be May 17, at Redwater. No decisions were made to attend, although Perry Adomaitis may be able to go. The St. Paul Auxiliary's 40th Anniversary celebrations will be May 5, tickets available until April 27th.

Discussion of the plans for the Hospital Day Tea and Sale followed; further work will be done later, supplies ordered, etc. A wheelchair has been purchased, suitable for use with the Van, and a highchair ordered for Pediatrics. Clocks for wards are still being investigated.

In the Annual Meeting which followed, the following were put forward: Gloria Lecopoy, Chairman; Teresa McCuaig, Vice-Chairman; Agnes Morosiuk, Secretary; Elsie Oryschuk, Treasurer; Violet McFadyen, Canteen. The Nominating Committee moved this slate of officers be accepted, carried.

The Phoning Committee will remain Hughie Krucik and Lois Sharek, with Irene Magnusson in charge of Publicity. Hours of volunteer endeavor during the year were reported, to be totalled for next meeting. Volunteer hours in 1988 were 1,671. During the 14 years since the inception of the Elk Point Auxiliary, a total of $52,283.54 has been raised and spent on articles of many kinds for the benefit of Hospital patients. Which averages out to $3,734.50 per year, not an insignificant sum.

What's news at the library?

The Easter pre-school storytime party will be held April 6 at 10:30 a.m. in the library. Bring your children to join in the stories, puppet show and activities.

The Spring break children's matinee last Thursday afternoon was the National Film Board production "Animania" a festival of animation. There was a good turnout as well for storytime and the puppet show "The Whispering Monkey".

The library is pleased to present a fine collection of videos produced by the National Film Board of Canada. These videos are part of a rotating collection of the Northern Lights Library Project. Some of the videos on display are:

"Paddle to the Sea" - This great National Film Board children's classic is adapted from a story by the Children's writer Holling C. Holling. During the winter nights, an Indian boy sets out to carve a man and a canoe. He calls the man Paddle to the Sea. He sets them down on a frozen stream to await the coming spring. The film charts the myriad adventures that befall the canoe on its long odyssey from Lake Superior down to the sea. A fresh and delightful story, photographed with a keen aesthetic eye. Oscar Nominee.

"K.C.I.: Behind the Three R's" - A film about a school that responds to community needs; "Starbreaker" - Set in an age of intergalactic travel, and filled with conflict between good and evil, Starbreaker is a futuristic fairy tale; "Fur and Feathers" - Portraits of people who are dedicated to working with animals; "Japanese Woman" - A film that explores Oriental culture as no tourist ever could; "Los Canadienses" - A sensitive, deeply moving account of the 1,200 Canadians who fought in the volunteer brigades of the Spanish Civil War; "Just For Kids" - In this film there is five adventure stories starring different animals. New music cassette just arrived in the library is called "Trash" by Alice Cooper.

Norcen Promotes Recycling

Norcen Energy Resources and the Elk Point Scouting Association cooperated on the construction of this handsome new recycling bin, which will be located at Norcen's field office southeast of Elk Point for the collection of discarded paper materials. The Scouts constructed the bin with materials provided by Norcen. Norcen's Allan Frankiw (right) says virtually all of the waste paper from the field office is shredded, bagged and recycled, and challenges other oil companies in the area to follow suit with this ecologically sound practice.

Community Services News

Community Services and the County of St. Paul F.C.S.S. are sponsoring a Youth Recreation Group for youth ages 11-15. This group meets at the Community Services Building every Thursday from 7:00-9:00 p.m. In recent weeks volleyball and basketball have been the most popular activities but there is also a pool table, ping pong, board games, videos, and of course, lots of music. There will also be special events such as dances and trips and other activities to be decided by the group.

Bridget and Stephen Montgomery will be working with the program but any one who wants to get involved is encouraged to phone Stephen at 724-3800. Or come down and join us on Thursday at 7:00 p.m. The cost for youth is $1.00 per evening and refreshments are provided.

Security Seminar

The Elk Point R.C.M.P. is sponsoring a Rural/Municipal Security Seminar on how you can better protect yourself against theft. The seminar will be held on April 11th at 7:00 p.m. in the Elk Point Community Services Centre. There will be guest speakers from Lock and Key, Lloydminster; Coast-to-Coast Security, Edmonton; Elk Point Rural Crime watch, and the Alberta Agriculture Farmer's Advocate. Property related thefts are on the rise. We need a community effort to stop the problem. Come to the seminar and find out what you can do. Admission is free.

Windsor Club Windup

By Sherry Pelech

The Lindbergh Windsor Club held its Curling Windup Party on March 31, with a supper, presentation of trophies and a social evening of cards and shuffleboard.

Nine teams competed in the Round Robin during the regular curling season. There were also five Ladies' Afternoon teams.

First place winner of the Round Robin event was the Edith Young team with Ken Hillebrand - third, Dennis Jasinsky - second and Flossie Shelley - lead.

A second place tie was decided by a coin toss with the Bill Pacholek rink as winner. Third place went to the Milton Lorenson rink. Fourth place was taken by Barrie Young's team.

Last place trophies were donated by Ken Hillebrand of Hillebrand Farms. Skip, Nellie Hillebrand, graciously accepted the ceramic skunks on behalf of her team.

The Ladies' Afternoon Curling was won by the Georgina Morris rink, with Cathy Ockerman - third, Barb Anderson - second and Flossie Shelley - lead. Second place went to the Caroline Shankowski rink.

WHO DO YOU APPRECIATE?

It's time to nominate
Alberta's Junior
Citizens of the Year.

Is there a youngster (aged 6 to 18) you know who has made a very positive contribution to your neighbourhood?

Perhaps there's a youth group you're aware of that's demonstrated energy and enthusiasm for a good cause?

Ten special youths or youth groups will receive 1990 Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year awards for making their communities a better place to live. Alberta Power Limited, Trans-Alta Utilities, and the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association (AWNA) sponsor these awards every year because energy and youth are Alberta's most precious natural resources.

HERE'S HOW!

To nominate someone for an Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Award, just write a letter describing why you think your nominee(s) deserves this special distinction and mail it to the address below... or fill in the nomination form available at any Alberta Power, Trans-Alta Utilities or AWNA office.

Be sure to include your name, address and phone number and that of your nominee(s).
